NEWS AND ANNOUNCEMENTS

James K Cameron Faculty Fellowship 2018-2019

The Institute is pleased to announce that the Cameron Faculty Fellowship for the academic year 2018-2019 has been awarded to Katharine Gerbner, Assistant Professor of History at the University of Minnesota. Professor Gerbner's first book, Christian Slavery: Conversion and Race in the Protestant Atlantic World will appear this year from the University of Pennsylvania Press. She will be spending her time in St Andrews working on her next project, Caribbean Reformations: Slavery and Theology in the Early Modern Atlantic World. This project will integrate early modern Caribbean religious history into the broader history of the long Reformation and European Protestantism.

Visiting Scholar

This semester the Institute welcomes Sarah Rindlisbacher from the University of Bern. Sarah will be here until July 2018, working on a research project on The Role of the City Clergy in the Protestant Foreign Relations of Zurich. She has been awarded a grant by the Swiss National Science Foundation for her stay.

2017 Commemorations

We marked the 500th anniversary of the Lutheran Reformation with a series of public lectures and an ecumenical service at Holy Trinity. St Salvator's Chapel Choir, supported by the Kellie Consort, recorded a wonderful CD of Lutheran music from the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries which is now available to buy at: <http://stsalvatorschapelchoir.wp.st-andrews.ac.uk/recordings/>

As part of the anniversary events, Dr Bess Rhodes presented an introduction to Smart History's virtual reconstruction of St Andrews in 1559. For a preview please go to <https://vimeo.com/240629953> and for the 360 view visit <https://roundme.com/tour/219464/view/612524/>

Congratulations to...

Gillian Jack, on the successful completion of her PhD on 'Sex, Salvation, and the City: The Monastery of Sant'Elisabetta delle Convertite as a Civic Institution in Florence, 1329-1627.'

Marc Jaffré, for the successful completion of his PhD on 'The Early Bourbon Courts, 1589-1643'

Institute Members' News

Bridget Heal has published 'Reformationsbilder in der Kunst der Aufklärung', in Wolf-Friedrich Schäufle and Christoph Sturm (eds), Das Bild der Reformation in der Aufklärung (Gütersloher Verlag Haus, 2017). She wrote a review of Germany's three national Reformation exhibitions in The Burlington Magazine vol. CLIX. (Nov 2017) and her co-edited special issue of Art History, 'Art and Religious Reform in Early Modern Europe' is now available as a paperback: www.wiley.com/en-gb/Art+and+Religious+Reform+in+Early+Modern+Europe-p-9781119422471 She is very glad that the Lutherjahr is over.

Sean Heath has been awarded a stipendiary fellowship by the Centre de recherche du château de Versailles [<http://chateauversailles-recherche.fr/>]. Sean will be using this, early in 2018, in order to bring to fruition some spin-off research from his doctorate on the cult of St Louis in early modern France, investigating the place of St Louis in France during the post-1815 restoration period.

Emily Michelson gave a public lecture on 8 November at the British School at Rome called 'Walking Conversionary Rome in the Sixteenth Century'.

Guy Rowlands was the after-dinner speaker for the annual New Researchers' Conference of the British Commission for Military History, held at Clare and St John's Colleges in Cambridge in November 2017. He spoke on the subject 'Military history, the history of war, and how not to be offensive in an after-dinner speech'. He also chaired two panels at the conference.

Chelsea Reutcke has been awarded the Theodora Bosanquet Bursary by the Funds for Women Graduates for her PhD research on English Catholic Print Culture from 1660 to 1688. This bursary will enable Chelsea to stay in London for during the period 30 June -15 September 2018.

Tom Scott has published, with Jason Coy, Len Scales, and Barbara Stollberg-Rilinger, 'An Empire for Our Times? A Discussion of Peter Wilson's The Holy Roman Empire: A Thousand Years of Europe's History, in Central European History, 50 (2017), 547-72.

Announcements

The Verein für Reformationsgeschichte [Society for Reformation History] and the German Historical Institute London [GHIL] are pleased to announce the first Anglo-German Doctoral Seminar in Early Modern Religious History, which will take place at the GHIL in Bloomsbury, London, from September 3 to September 5 2018.

The seminar will bring together junior scholars from Germany and the UK / Republic of Ireland who are nearing completion of their doctoral dissertations. We plan to invite up to eight doctoral students from each region. The organizers welcome proposals on any aspect of the early modern religious history of the Holy Roman Empire, Britain or Ireland. Doctoral students working in related fields and disciplines – for example art history and literary studies – are encouraged to apply, as are students working on comparative projects. The discussions will be based on English-language papers submitted six weeks in advance, and the seminar will be conducted in English. The organizers will cover travel and lodging expenses.

A detailed CFP will be issued in February. Please contact Dr Bridget Heal (bmh6@st-andrews.ac.uk) with questions in the meantime.

Voices of Conscience in Early Modern Europe

A colloquium to discuss Nicole Reinhardt, Voices of Conscience: Royal Confessors and Political Counsel in Seventeenth-Century Spain and France (2016) St Andrews, 9 March 2018

For further details contact Dr Jacqueline Rose on jer9@st-andrews.ac.uk

The latest issue of the Archiv für Reformationsgeschichte (108) is dedicated to The Global Impact of the Reformations: Long-Term Influences and Contemporary Ramifications. It includes contributions from Andrew Pettegree, Bruce Gordon and Bridget Heal.
